WORLD HAPPENINGS

BRIEFLY TOLD

Secretary-General Pygme has been elected for $33,600,000 to operate the United Nations in 1949.

Manitoba's largest cattle auctioneer sold growing prospects, produced by the Manitoba Livestock Association.

The United Nations economic and social council voted to give the UN appeal for children by year-end. Children under 16 have reached 150 million.

Cyril Kirby, Toronto of Vancouver won the 1948 Canadian theatre conference's 1948 playwrighting competition. Prof. Kenneth Graham, conference secretary-treasurer announced.

The Fraser river salmon catch this year will meet winter expectations, fishermen predicted. A spokesman said the anticipated 1,000,000 salmon now will not likely exceed 600,000 to 700,000.

When a basketball from the park across the street smashed her front window, a Vancouver housewife objected. She got that advice from the ball players. "Move your house back—away from the park."

All poultry meats and eggs sold at Canadian farms and markets on the farm, including eggs produced by urban and rural districts were valued at more than $238 million in 1947. In 1948, the comparable figure was $245 million.

A British Overseas Airways Corporation Liberator recently was captured by the weather to climb 18,000 feet to contact an air tanker of Flight Refueling, Langley, B.C. This record held the plane took off 850 gallons of fuel.

No Shortage Of Turkeys

OTTAWA.—Canada's supplies of turkeys are normal, officials of the agriculture department said. They were commenting on a Washington report that turkey supplies in the United States will be scarce and prices higher during the November Thanksgiving season.

Canada now has about 4,300,000 pounds in storage, officials said, with new supplies expected to come on the market in quantity in late fall.

Canadians do not lose heavily to turkey in the Thanksgiving dinner in the U.S. Here, the big market is at Christmas.

Considerable quantities of turkey will be available for export to the U.S., it was stated, and some more are moving. Dressed birds are going out in carload lots, and British Columbia and central Canada also are shipping out considerable numbers of birds for breeding.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD BOY FED BY TUBE SINCE BIRTH TAKES FOOD AT LAST

BOSTON.—Lots of kids don't like a soft-boiled egg, but 4-year-old Robert (Jackie) Cooper said it was the best thing he ever ate.

As a matter of fact it was the first thing he ever ate normally.

Born without an esophagus, Jackie was fed through a tube into his stomach and a recent corrective operation had been successful enough for him to celebrate his birthday by eating just like other folks.

His attractive 15-year-old mother, widow of an infantry sergeant killed in the Battle of the Bulge, could not let the boy's soft-boiled egg for breakfast.

The taste he improved Jackie that he dashed from the house and roared through his father's neighborhood shouting:

20-YEAR-OLD GIRL TAKES NEWS OF NEVER WALK AGAIN WITH A SMILE

WASHINGTON.—For 28 days, they dressed the house when they would have to take 20-year-old Dorothy Kilgore she would never walk again. The pretty little blonde seemed so full of life, and her friends said she loved to dance.

Dorothy was unaware that she would be recaptured in an accidental night club shooting July 29 had paralyzed her permanently.

But recently Dorothy was told she would be married to a man named for an indefinite stay. She had to be told.

A hospital attendant approached her bed, she began by reminding the girl that she would be leaving her children, and the attendant's voice faltered. She cleared her throat and started again.

"Dorothy," she said, "suppose after we were all tried to do your back left leg, I'll come in again, and you can't walk any more."

Dorothy was silent for a while. Then she smiled and said: "I'd be all right. I'll be happy and I'll get along somehow. If God has spared my life, it must be for a reason."

She said she would not let her friends be in high spirits when she reached home. She would not let them know she was in a wheelchair.

White reason is puzzling herself about the mystery. Jackie is turning out to be a very good girl, and she is doing very well in school.

Nothing in life is more wonderful than faith—the one great moving force which we can neither wish in the balance nor let in the crucible.

"I'm 4 years old today and I can eat now."

Jackie had vegetables for lunch, but the payoff came at his birthday party later in the day when he managed to eat a huge red and white fruited cake with his name lettered across the top.

She helped the boy out the first evening—a big one—wished with dampened eyes as he lifted it with both hands for his first taste.

Suddenly Jackie realized and heaved the chunk of cake self-consciously.

"I forgot," he apologized. "I guess I should use a fork like you told me."

"Go ahead," his mother smiled. "The year hasn't. It won't do any harm—just this once."

Harvest Thanks

By JANE DALE
My grateful hand sends thanks to Thee
For food and drink, O Lord, my God,
A song of thanks for parceled store
From field and tree safely come near.

May I abundant blessings share
With Thy poor people everywhere.

My grateful hand sends thanks to Thee
For food and drink, O Lord, my God,
A prayer for all humanity.
Regardless of their race or creed,
May they from hunger never be freed.

Upon them, Lord, Thy blessings pour
And give them food, abundant store.

WOMEN WANT PERMANENT ROSY CHEEKS AND LIPS

LONDON.—GEO. Burchett, tattoo artist, said recently that increasing numbers of women were asking his help in obtaining permanently rosy cheeks and crimson lips.

Many women like beautiful, rosy cheeks and lips tattooed on their lips and bodies. He said that he had never had her get ever tattooed on her face, but he had never sent her back to have it removed.

Artificial Kidney Being Developed

CHICAGO.—Two researchers report on developments of an artificial kidney to aid persons whose kidneys—vital in elimination of body wastes—do not function properly.

They are Dr. Gordon Murray, Dr. Edward Doherty and Merrill Thomas of Toronto. They said that with their machines they reproduced the function of the kidney and (it) will remove any, if not all of the toxic substances, which frequently cause death.

New Industrial Importance For Manitoba

WINNIPEG.—Manitoba, long considered by the rest of Canada as a source of prairie suited only to agriculture, soon may take its place alongside her sister provinces in an industrial world.

"There is not a single community in this province," Dr. J. C. McManis, a geologist, said, "that does not have industrial facilities that at least one industrial plant could not be promoted with success."

He said that in 1929 the province had 100,000 acres of mineral resources and 100,000 acres of mineral resources.

He was commenting on a two-year survey just completed, of the province's industrial potentialities by the Bureau of Industry and Commerce.

Started in 1947, the survey covered more than 10 towns and villages throughout the province. It is a "technical inventory of Manitoba's assets and liabilities," Mr. McManis said.

"It gives a true picture of the conditions and possibilities of the various communities. The results of the survey have been brought together in a summary form in 1949. It is a 'technical inventory of Manitoba's assets and liabilities,' Mr. McManis said.

Since 1945, 25 per cent. of the new industries established in Manitoba were located outside Winnipeg.

Industry in the province has grown from a 150,000,000 business enterprise in 1940 to 240,000,000 in 1947, with 430,000,000 in 1947 employing 400,000 persons.

Report New Treatment For Kidney Disease

Patients Given Transfusion Which Sweeps Old Blood For New

RUFFALO, N.Y.—Successful treatment of a serious kidney disease in adults by giving them new blood for old was reported by a French physician.

The patients are given a new transfusion which sweeps their blood of old and healthy blood. It is frequently done in babies born with defective blood condition, caused by the fish factor.

The exchange of blood to 120 adults was described by Dr. Marcel Beaudet of Paris at the closing session of the International Society of Hematology.

Normal blood located by healthy plasma is fed continuously into the vein of one arm while the patient's blood is drawn off from the other arm, he explained. Two quarts of blood are given in this manner. Circulating in the body, are used to remove any defective waste from the patient.

The transfusion has been 90 per cent successful in curing nephritis, a kidney disease in which the blood becomes toxic or poisonous, Dr. Beaudet said. The new supply of healthy blood helps the kidneys to return to normal function.

The blood sweep also has brought temporary improvement in some cases of anemia, a fatal blood disease. It does not cure.

Sartorial Skill Will Startle Most Men

LONDON—Mr. Man—may be wearing a pink suit now.

At the forthcoming sartorial show, to be held by the British National Federation of Merchant Tailors there will be suits and even "fashionable lingerie" in all the hues of the rainbow and in all sizes—down to 12 inch, topped and puffed.

These last creations for the well-dressed man are in the line of the new and the old—pink, white, blue, green and apple-green waist, and are doubtless what superman wears to the ladies, who, they are expected, will be wearing bright, colorful, and even "fashionable lingerie" in all the hues of the rainbow and in all sizes—down to 12 inch, topped and puffed.

Cake Is Waiting For Railroad Passenger

NEW YORK—The New Haven Railroad is looking for new ways to make its trains more comfortable.

The railroad publicity office said that the new train, the "New Haven," is to be built in South Norwalk, Conn., and is to be built in 1917 for a trip from Ridgefield, Conn., to New Haven.

It said the ride had been purchased for the railroad from Ridgefield, Conn., over a 100-mile line, which has gone out of existence, and the new train, the "New Haven," is to be built in 1917 for a trip from Ridgefield, Conn., to New Haven.

Anybody the railroad thinks "takes the cake" and thus wants to be taken with one—of the railroad's new food.

Under the monkeys, two men are working to see how long they can keep the monkeys in corsets.

"Sea-Theme" Hat Style For Fall

NEW YORK—Those who go down to the sea in ships soon to come back to design women's hats.

The new theme is a distant memory in Jay Thompson's showing of fall and winter millinery.

Some of the names applied to the hats themselves have some relation to the sea. Many designs are reminiscent of the sea, with blue and white, and some with high on the back. Others sweep forward like the prow of a ship, with and feathers perched, and some with a wide brim.

The storm-gray hat was given bluish, with and almost movement. The blue-gray hat was given a bluish, with and almost movement.

Our Way Of Planning

By Joseph Lester Rutledge

A lot of people seem to believe with the idea that some sort of change will produce sudden miracle.

The transfusion has been 90 per cent successful in curing nephritis, a kidney disease in which the blood becomes toxic or poisonous, Dr. Beaudet said. The new supply of healthy blood helps the kidneys to return to normal function.

The blood sweep also has brought temporary improvement in some cases of anemia, a fatal blood disease. It does not cure.
